GREETINGS...

And a big greeting from all of us here at The London Horror Festival

It's BAAAAACK! The UK's biggest festival of live horror performance returns for a FIFTH terrifying year, to thrill and chill audiences for three jam packed weeks this October, and we are proud to announce that this year the festival is produced in collaboration with the fine folk of The Etcetera Theatre, the official home of the LHF!

With more than 10 different horror theatre companies and artists bringing their work to the festival, a spectacular launch night cabaret, film screening, Zombie weekends, midnight performances AND a short horror play competition, 2015 is looking set to be our most exciting festival yet!

With a terrifyingly eclectic mix of horror comedy, abstract theatre, psychological drama, mind reading, puppetry and even a Zombie musical, there's something for everyone.

Following on from the huge success of last year's launch night extravaganza, we are kicking things off with the 'Celebrate Halloween Early' Horror Cabaret - featuring the weird and wonderful talents of some of London's finest burlesque, comedy and vaudeville artists, and hosted by none other than Lucy Muck, of last year's 'horror raffle' fame...!

The festival continues to support new writing and provide a platform for emerging talent in the horror theatre scene, with 'It's Not What It Seems...' - a short horror play writing competition, where the top 3 shortlisted plays will be performed on the first night of the festival, with an exclusive prize for the winning entry and free giveaways for audience members! Don't miss it!

For something a bit different after dark, get yourself down to Camden for our midnight performances of 'Jermay Predicts!' - critically acclaimed mind reading and psychic predictions from Luke Jermay.

And in tribute to the late great Christopher Lee we will also be screening one of his greatest films, the classic horror 'The Wicker Man', accompanied by the haunting vocals of the 'Eversley Singers' choir.

Read on to check out the full programme and details of all the shows.

See website for tickets, and follow us on Twitter (@LdnHorrorFest), Facebook (London Horror Festival) & Instagram (@londonhorrorfestival) for all the latest news and updates during the festival.

We look forward to seeing you down there this October!

SLOW FADE TO BLEAK

CASUAL VIOLENCE

Multi award winning sketch villains and stars of BBC Radio 4's Sketchorama present a brand new hour of sketches. No narrative this time: just an experimental slice of silly, strange and sad new comedy from one of the UK's most critically acclaimed sketch groups. "Leading the new wave of sketch comedy... Mix Game of Thrones, the League of Gentlemen and Roald Dahl to create dark, twisted and silly skits" – the Sunday Times

MON 19TH OCT, 9PM

TICKETS £10

THE DEVIL WITHOUT

IAN HARVEY-STONE

A 500 year old Faust uses the audience to hide from his demonic pursuers. Audience interaction, magic, infrasound and illusion combine to bring a whole new immersive theatrical interpretation of the Faust legend inspired by the works of Neil Gaiman and Alan Moore. You know that almost all demons are your own, right?

TUE 13TH – SUN 18TH OCT, 9.30PM

TICKETS £14 (£12 conc.)

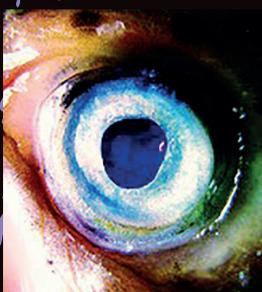

HOME FREE

THEATRUM VERITATUS

A brother and sister have cut themselves off from the world "outside", living in a cluttered playroom which they share with two imaginary companions. Surrounded by toys, they have created an atmosphere of almost suffocating intimacy and remove, where play becomes the business of life... but life intrudes all the same.

TUE 20TH – SUN 25TH OCT, 7PM

£12 (£10 conc.)

THE SHADOW OVER INNSMOUTH

HIDDEN BASEMENT PRODUCTIONS

On a frankly tedious architectural tour of the coastline, Robert Olmsted happens upon the seaport of Innsmouth. What he discovers there will threaten his life, test his will and shatter his sanity. Hidden Basement Productions brings a darkly comic realisation of this Lovecraft classic to the Horror Festival in a world premiere.

MON 19TH OCT, 7PM

TICKETS £10

FRED STRANGEBONE'S FREAKSHOW

BEN WHITEHEAD

Horror comedy with a cast of grotesque, unsettling characters. "A highly entertaining piece of audience interaction, wouldn't be out of place in a Boy With Tape On His Face show" – Chortle. "Brilliant, inventive, deserves to be commended for challenging the boundaries and creating an unforgettable experience" – Broadway Baby

PAYNE KILLER

THE UPLIFTERS

John Falkener is a dangerous psychopath, he enjoys torturing and killing women. Targeting his 7th victim, enigmatic widow Phyllis Payne, what at first appears to be a straightforward confrontation, becomes something more complex and revealing as the past of both characters are slowly uncovered in this darkly, comic thriller.

MON 26TH – FRI 30TH OCT, 7PM

£12 (£10 conc.)

IDEOMOTOR

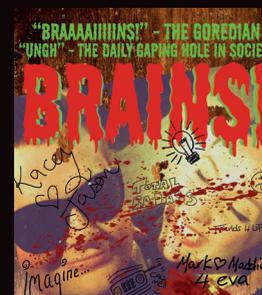

GAVIN INNES

For centuries people have used the Ouija board to help quench their thirst of the unknown: "Is there anybody there?" "What happens when we die?" "Have you seen my pet hamster?" A dark supernatural comedy about contacting spirits, unlocking secrets... and a missing hamster.

MON 26TH – FRI 30TH OCT, 9PM

£12 (£10 conc.)

ZOMBIE WEEKENDS

BRAINS

TWO BOX PRODUCTIONS

Two Box Productions brings you a brand new musical from the 'Brains' of Jax Braithwaite – a romzomcomsical the likes of which you've never seen. Prepare for laughter, tears, tantrums, high notes, harmonies and the apocalypse: a full scale zombie musical from an unruly and often argumentative cast of four.

SAT 17TH & SUN 18TH OCT, 2.30PM

£12.50 (£11 conc.)

INFECTION

BATH STREET PRODUCTIONS

The infection's widespread: 'don't get bitten.' Dom, Will and Sam struggled being twenty-somethings, so how will they deal with an alien zombie apocalypse? They can throw film references at each other and kitchen utensils at the zombies, but will they run out of luck?

SAT 24TH & SUN 25TH OCT, 2.30PM

THANKS

We would like to take this opportunity to send our deepest thanks to....

All staff at the Etcetera Theatre and the Oxford Arms. Alex Singleton once again for the amazing cover artwork. Nicholas Vince for his ongoing support of the festival. All the entrants, readers, directors and performers for 'It's Not What It Seems...'. Jessica Croome for her work on the festival brochure and Peter Davis for his work on the festival posters and flyers. Pam MacMillan for their support of the festival for a second year and for kindly supplying free horror novels for audience giveaways! Stewart Pringle and Liam Welton for creating this wonderful beast and continuing to offer guidance and advice year on year. All you wonderful folk who fill the seats and those that have and continue to support the festival every year – you know who you are and we thank you from the bottom of our dark hearts.

And last but not least, a big thank you to the amazing companies and artists who come together every year to make the London Horror Festival the unique, crazy, and wonderful event that it is – here's to LHF2015!
